DEDICATION

We, the seniors of 1951, dedicate this Episode to Marguerite Dunn, in appreciation of her thoughtfulness and kindness as our sponsor in guiding us through the past five years.

Whenever we had any problems she was always ready and willing to help us find a solution for them. We are very thankful for her cooperation which helped make our high school days more successful.

ADMINISTRATION

Principal RUSSELL C. CALLAWAY

Indiana State A.B.
Indiana University M.S.
Butler University
University of Chicago
Special Graduate Work
Sponsor Senior Class

The members of the administrative body have done much planning and organizing to keep things running smoothly in our everyday school life. First, the superintendent and the trustee have worked together to formulate the plans and the general policies of our school. Our principal in turn, has administered these plans and policies by working through the various departments. The advisory board has shown deep interest by their words of praise, advice, and their approval on the reasonable financial budget.

FREDA L. HESS

FLOYD C. CURTIS

RAY L. MILLER

ADVISORY BOARD

DEPARTMENTS

AD

ENGLISH

BARBARA HEETER, A.B., Ball State; English, Sponsor Eighth Grade.

The English department this year feels that it has a more complete understanding of the parts of speech and how sentences are developed. The students have diagrammed sentences, given book reports, and discussed interesting stories from their literature books.

The department's goal is to achieve an appreciation of the finer works of prose and poetry.

LIBRARY

BETTY JONES, A.B., Ball State; English, Library, Sponsor Sunshine Society, Counselor of Girls, Sponsor Seventh Grade.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

MARGUERITE DUNN, A.B., Ball State; Social Science, English, Sponsor Senior Class.

The aim of the social studies department is to teach history through the use of field trips, discussions, reports, moving pictures, and visiting speakers. Through the use of these aids it is made easier for the student to learn about the past and present of his country and the world about him. Mrs. Dunn teaches social studies.

LATIN

BRIGHT KIMMEL, A.B., Limestone College, University of North Carolina; Social Science, Latin, Sponsor Freshman Class.

Latin is intended to help you enjoy the fullness of life. And the knowledge of Latin will also make you secure in your use of English.

TYPING

DONALD SMALL, M.A., Ball State; Special Graduate Work, Commerce, Counselor of Boys, Assistant Coach, Assistant Principal.

The primary aim of a course in typewriting is the development of typing power for personal and vocational use. In beginning typing, under the supervision of Mr. Small, appropriate speed is stressed, followed by a planned drive for control.

SHORTHAND

MAXINE EASTMAN, B.S., Ball State; Business Education, Physical Education, Sponsor Pep Club, Sponsor Freshman Class.

Illustrated is the course of shorthand in which the students are gaining the ability to become potential stenographers and secretaries. These students are able to take dictation up to approximately ninety words a minute.

SCIENCE

JOE R. McKINNEY, B.S., Purdue University, Ball State; Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, Sponsor Sophomore Class.

The chemistry class, under the supervision of Mr. McKinney, performs various experiments to illustrate scientific facts. They took a field trip to Delco Remy in Muncie this year to learn how batteries are made.

MATHEMATICS

There is an excellent opportunity for students of Yorktown High School to major in mathematics. The math courses include first year algebra, advanced algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, and trigonometry. Mrs. Henkle teaches junior high school mathematics.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

WALTER STEPHENSON, B.S., Ball State; Industrial Arts, Mathematics, Sponsor J.A.A., Sponsor Eighth Grade, Eighth Grade Coach.

Industrial arts boys are taught the proper use of tools, drafting, and the art of woodworking in this department.

HOME ECONOMICS

SARAH BROWN, B.S., Ball State; Home Economics, Sponsor F.H.A., Sponsor Junior Class.

Cooking, sewing, house planning and home nursing are taught by Mrs. Brown. Training received in these classes helps prepare a girl for a bright future as a homemaker. 4-H and F.H.A. (Future Homemakers of America) function under this department.

MUSIC

THOMAS RAY, B.S., Sherwood Conservatory of Music, Indiana University, Ball State; Music, Sponsor Seventh Grade.

The high school band, under the direction of Mr. Ray, has done much to help our school during the year. Organized three years ago it is known throughout the state for its excellent marching formation. Many of the students won individual awards at solo and sextet contests.

JOURNALISM

CHARLES TOWNS, B.S., Ball State; English, Journalism, Sponsor Junior Class.

The Broadcaster staff has the job of putting out the school paper once every four weeks. The members of the journalism class write all of the material for the Broadcaster.

Faculty advisors for the Broadcaster are Mrs. Eastman, Mr. Towns, and Mr. Small.

ART

MILDRED P. ARMSTRONG, B.S., Ball State, Art, Music.

The art class, directed by Mrs. Armstrong, has been very busy this year. It has worked with clay, oil, paint, sketch pencils, India ink, tempera colors, crayons, and other materials. The members of the class took a field trip to Indianapolis to the John Herron Art Institute where they saw the works of some of our most famous artists.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

RALPH E. MAY, M.A., Ball State; Health, Physical Education, Coach.

Boys' athletic activities are taught by Mr. May. Mr. Preston and Mr. Oswald, seniors at Ball State Teachers College, served twelve-week terms student teaching here this year. Through the instruction of Mr. May and the student teachers the high school boys have become skillful and have developed physical co-ordination in tumbling and minor sports.

CLASS PROPHECY

All aboard! All aboard! All aboard for the Dreamland Express, heading for all points north, south, east and west. We are journeying to the land of make-believe where I, Jack Reagan, the conductor of this train will introduce to you some very prominent people in the world of today, 2000 . . . As I am walking down the aisle collecting tickets I have a charming chat with the world's greatest artist Bill Wilhoit, who owns the John Mowers Podel Studio in Burbanks, Alaska . . . Traveling with him are two of his famous live models Carolyn McKinley and Harold Gale . . . At my left I see the well-known congresswoman, Janet Rees, from Washington, D. C., and her private stenographer, Wilma Worth . . . Sitting near the back of the car I find Jack Manor, pro-baseball star of the Yorktown Yankees, and Al Ellison, pro-basketball star of the Cammack Globe-Trotters, flirting with Cuba Mathew, the world's renowned famous traveler, and Patsy Deweese, a representative sent by the Farm Bureau on an excursion through Africa . . . Hold it — who's this I see coming down the aisle? Well shut my mouth and call me speechless if it isn't Richard Crawley, the spectacular opera singer, who sings nightly at the Stork Club in Hollywood . . . I am now in the dining car and who is that cute little waitress waiting on Wayne Antrim, trophy taker of the 500-mile races? Why, I see it is none other than Marilyn Constance Dryer . . . Earl Stewart, forest ranger of the Sherwood Forest, and Pete Lennington, chemical engineer at the Atomic Engery Laboratory in Russia, are waiting anxiously for her to get to their table. Take it easy boys!! . . . Frogs legs, shrimp cocktail, and milk is the menu of the director of a large concert orchestra, Phil Stephenson . . . Also while waiting on their lunch, Robert Aul and Robert Snodgrass chat across the table about the baking and undertaking business . . . As we happen to glance out the window, we see Don Harmon's 24-hour wrecking service station doing a prosperous business working on Paul Talbott's fire truck . . . Jim Frazier, an officer of the National Guard, and his aid-de-camp, John Stewart, are relaxing on down the aisle after a luscious meal in the dining car . . . Well, I had better hurry on to the smoker room so I can finish my introductions . . . At the end of the car is Bill Wallace, the hen-pecked husband, talking to Miss Jean Storer, the fat lady of Barnum-Bailey Ringling Bros., Circus . . . Here, here, out of my way now . . . Who do you think you are? Oh, I beg your pardon, it's Don Watkins, the heavy weight champion of the Golden Gloves Tournament performing for Ora Loveless, the prominent stockholder of the world's largest defense plant, Warner Gear . . . Now we are nearing the exclusive compartments of the train . . . I will just peek through this keyhole of compartment 2B and see who is within . . . Oh dear, it is Marguerite Cook, the famous solo star of the Fox theatre in Brown County, rehearsing before her boss, Rick Puckett . . . Across the aisle in room 3C is Christina Mitchell, resting after a long journey from South American where her husband is general manager of the Standard Oil Company . . . In an adjoining room the more popular dress designer and owner of a New York concern, Joanne Thompson is discussing business with her advertising manager, Nancy Antrim . . . Ooo-de-lay-de-hoo . . . I hear music but there's no one there . . . Let's travel out to the caboose and see what's cooking . . . Why it's none other than Tex Hittson, the owner of a large cattle ranch in Moonsville, Texas, serenading his lady Joan Snodgrass Coffman, chief cook and bottle-washer at the Spink Arms Restaurant . . . Well, I think it is about time that we should be going back through the train and see if I missed anyone . . . Why, yes, here are four charming ladies playing bridge . . . May I have your names and occupations please? All right, Joyce Landrey, bank cashier at the First National Bank; Joyce Cash, art instructor in the Greenwich Village; Faustine Childs, editor of the Yorktown Herald-Tribune, and Rebecca Hall, receptionist at the Curior Shop in Gillmon, Indiana . . . And I thank you very much . . . Seated on further back is Nancy Broadwater, well-known author of the new book "Love—What Is It?", whom we also missed . . . Well, John Stephenson, the engineer of the Dreamland Express has signaled me that we have now reached our destination so we must end our little trip and say farewell until next time when we meet again . . .

RECESSES

Recesses are spent by playing on the jungle gym, merry-go-round, and other playground equipment.

The recess periods are under the supervision of the elementary teachers.

EPISODE

Every year the Episode is produced with the hope that it is the best yet. This year the staff has spent much time and effort in bringing out this book. Through advertising and sales the expenses were met by the treasury of the senior class.

With the co-operation of each member for the responsibilities he had to assume, the staff has been very successful in producing the "51" Episode.

We wish to extend our thanks to Mrs. Dunn and Mr. Callaway, sponsors of the senior class, and to Mrs. Eastman, Mr. Small and Mr. Towns, for all the work and effort they have put forth in publishing this book.

JANET REES

Chosen as one of the top ten speakers in the Senate.

OUR REPRESENTATIVES

Each December two students are chosen to represent Yorktown High School at the Student Legislative Assembly at Purdue University. Two alternates are sent also.

The students write bills on current problems and present them. The bills are discussed and either passed or killed. These sessions enable the students to better understand our government and its various functions.

JACK REAGAN

Chosen as one of the top ten speakers in the House.

"Sleighbell Serenade" was the theme of the Annual Homecoming Dance held December 16 in the high school gymnasium. The music was provided by Peter Anthony and his band. The gym was brightly decorated throughout with small Christmas trees and colorful streamers. King and Queen of Homecoming were crowned at 11:30 by Pete Lennington. Candidates were nominated from each of the high school classes.

Here are the little green freshies getting painted up for the big day's event.

HOMECOMING

Attending the "board meeting" is the most painful event for the freshmen on Initiation Day.

WATCH THE BIRDIE

When it's action you want call Reid's Studio — 2-1117.

SENIOR PLAY

"Bolts and Nuts" was the name of the play presented this year by the seniors. The play was centered around Bolt Sanatorium, a hospital for the mentally ill. With people having fears of cats, open doors, and contaminated air the play became a rollicking comedy. The cast included Joyce Landry, Richard Crawley, Joanne Thompson, Joan Coffman, Wilma Worth, Bill Wallace, Earl Stewart, Pete Lennington, Jean Storer, Janet Rees, Jack Manor, Jack Reagan, and Don Watkins.

BAND

The band is supported by an organization of parents and boosters known as the Band Boosters. This organization sponsors activities to buy new uniforms, music, and sweaters needed.

We hope the band and the Band Boosters keep up the good work.

CHORUS

In the chorus, students learn to sing, harmonize, and know music better. The chorus sings at meeting and other activities for entertainment. They presented an operetta, "VACATION VARIETIES," on April 20. We wish these singers success.

F. H. A.

The F.H.A., Future Homemakers of America, has been growing since it was introduced to the girls two years ago. Its motto is "Toward New Horizons," learning to live better today in order that our lives and those of our families may be better tomorrow. The members have enjoyed many parties during the year.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

The 50-51 chapter of the Sunshine Society of Yorktown, which is sponsored by Mrs. Jones, held different activities during the year. They included having a Christmas party, holding a coat check at ball games and P.T.A., and attending the state and district conventions.

SENIOR 4-H CLUB

The 4-H Clubs of America are growing organizations. Every year many boys and girls join to learn more about farming, sewing, and many other projects. The clubs have regular meetings during the summer.

JUNIOR 4-H CLUB

Enrichment and development of youth are the principles of the 4-H Club, members of which are both boys and girls. The Junior Club is made up of younger boys and girls.

VARSITY

The Yorktown Tigers enjoyed a fairly good year, ending up in third place in the county standing with 11 wins and 8 defeats. Royerton defeated the Tigers in the first round of county tournament play to knock the defending champions out of the tournament.

SECOND TEAM

Yorktown's second team enjoyed a highly successful season in which they had a record of 18 wins and 3 defeats. They also captured the second team tournament which was held at Cowan. They were coached by Don Small.

PEP CLUB

Since basketball has become "Hoosier Madness" the girls like to take an active part also. Pep, vim, and vigor has boosted the Yorktown High School Pep Club this year to even greater heights than in years before. Eighty-three girls answered the call of Mrs. Eastman in the fall and were organized into a successful cheering block. These girls realized the purpose of the club and have provided organized cheering at regular games and tournaments.

Officers of the organization are Chris Mitchell, president; Joanne Thompson, vice-president; Nancy Antrim, secretary; Carolyn McKinley, treasurer; and Janet Rees, Karen Wagner, and Phyllis Keller, Board of Control members.

EIGHTH GRADE

The eighth grade finished a perfect season of 17 wins by taking the eighth grade county tournament.

First Row—J. Childs, Mr. Stephenson, Eddie McKibben.
Second Row—George Porter, Elam Frye, Fred Haisley, Dick Glaub, Larry Dunn, Buddy Salford.
Third Row—Jim Mitchell, Max Hensley, Bob Reynolds, Dick Morrison.

BASEBALL

YELL LEADERS

Yell leaders, Kay Drayer, Claudia Drayer, and Cuba Mathew.

J. A. A.

For four years the junior leagues have proven to be very successful. Mr. Stephenson, the sponsor, has had an enrollment of over 100 boys each year. The league is divided into three parts, A, B, C leagues. Each year there is a banquet and tourney held and a sportsmanship trophy is given to the boy that has been chosen the best sport.
